

Assoc. Prof. Dr.Kheirollah Sadeghi is professor of Clinical Psychology at Kermnshah University of Medical Sciences, when he teaches courses in Psychopathology, Mental health and Cognitive – Behavioral Theory. Born in 1963, he received Ph.D degree in clinical Psychology from the Iran University of Medical Sciences (Tehran Institute of Psychiatry) in 2008. In 2009, he founded the Department of Clinical Psychology at Kermanshah University of Medical sciences, and continued to work as a academic member of the medical faculty. He was the director of the aforementioned department for approximately 8 years (since 2009 through 2017). Dr Sadeghi is also a member of the Psychology and Counseling organization of Iran –Kermanshah branch. In addition to supervising dissertations, he has published many scientific articles in Iranian and international Journals. He has also translated two textbooks on the obesity from English into Persian. He got married in 1990 and has three children named "Parham" , "Pardis" and "Parsa"